Little Business At Town Council Meeting Monday

Changed Date of The Tax Sale
To October 15th.

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held last Monday evening but very little business was brought up for discussion.

Two applications for purchase of town property were submitted. The applications were from Chas. Benjamin and Helmut Caudel and the property was sold to them on First St and Rolling Mill Street.

The date for the Tax Sale this year was changed to October 15th.

Accounts submitted to the finance committee were approved and were passed for payment. Will Be Intervening Program For Afternoon And Evening.

The Wheat Situation In Canada and U. S.

U. S. Reportable of 450 Million
Bushels and Canada 250

The outstanding feature in the world wheat situation at the present time is the fact that North America is going to turn out a huge crop. The United States estimate is 967 million bushels, and the last report of the Canadian bureau of statistics suggests a similar wheat crop of about 375 million bushels. The United States will have an exportable surplus of 450 million bushels at least, and Canada 250 million bushels.

Indications are that the United States will be content to ship overseas 100 million bushels, but Canada will have to export bushels that figure in order to retain her markets and prevent the start of another large carry-over.

Miss Lillian Lenning is the guest of Miss Edith Colvard at the Colvard cottage at Elkwater Lake this week.

Miss Mary Wetland of How Island, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gordon and family for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Soukup Sr. and Mary Lidicky left Tuesday morning for Elkwater for a short holiday. They were accompanied by Miss Sylvia Koldstad.

Our Town Boys Won Pottery Prize

Result of Training Under
Mr. T. Todd of Town

Two local lads who attended the Youth Training School held here last winter won prizes for exhibits shown at the recent Calgary Exhibition.

The Redcliff winners, Norman Hindall and Fred Wayteley, who won First and Third prizes respectively, were under instruction in pottery work by Mr. T. Todd, who was engaged for this work by the government. The report now is that the work done was the best in the province. Mr. Todd is to be congratulated as are also the lads who took advantage of his training.

We understand that the second prize went to a student of the Tech. School in Calgary.

The Old Country Social Creditors Against Douglas

Douglas Says There is No S. C.
Government in Alberta

At a meeting of Social Creditors in England last weekend there was a fracas which certain members were opposed to Major Douglas at which blows were struck and police were summoned. At the meeting John Hargrave, national leader, declared the party renounced the political leadership of Major Douglas because he failed to seize the golden opportunity presented by the 1935 electoral victory in Alberta, and for other reasons.

After the meeting Major Douglas stated that the Alberta election of 1935 was not a Social Credit victory, so it was a special verdict on the results of the U.P.A. administration. Mr. Douglas declared there never has been a social credit government in Alberta. From August 1935 to March 1937 there has been "a financial dictatorship working through an increasing restive premier" said Major Douglas.

TOWN OF REDCLIFF

The Local Tax Arrears
Consolidation Act

The Council of the Town of Redcliff has passed a By-law declaring that the above Act will be applicable to the Town of Redcliff and said By-law has been approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs in writing.

All consolidated arrears of taxes shall under this Act be payable by five equal annual installments together with the current taxes on or before the 15th day of December except as hereinafter mentioned.

The following persons may make application to the Council to come under the provisions of the above Act:—

Any person, firm or corporation who is the owner of any parcel of land in the Town of Redcliff, against the title of which there is subsisting notification for arrears under "The Tax Recovery Act 1929 and 1938"

Any person who has been a bona fide resident of the Town of Redcliff for 12 months immediately preceding the date of his application in the case of lands which have been finally acquired by the Town of Redcliff, but not sold, or such person's representative.

In such cases where the applicant's property is to be exposed for sale at the forthcoming Tax Sale on Oct. 15th, 1938, such applicants should make their applications in time for the Council to consider same previous to that date.

Upon receipt of the application the Secretary Treasurer shall calculate the amount required to pay the arrears of taxes, if the same were consolidated, and the applicant shall deposit with the Secretary Treasurer one fifth of such sum.

In such cases where the applicant to consolidate is made after the 15th day of November 1938 the applicant shall also deposit with the Secretary Treasurer sufficient to pay the current year's taxes.

In any event the current year's taxes shall be paid by the applicant on or before the 15th

No Work Yet On The Highway Of Redcliff East

Promise Made That Road Would Be Improved

Reference was made in the Review last week to the bad condition of the main highway between here and Medicine Hat, which is considered the most used piece of main highway in the province.

Mention was made some time ago to the effect that the Federal Government was going to improve this highway this summer and at Redcliff some time ago Mr. Fallow of the provincial government assured us that if the federal government did not do so, he would make some improvements.

New information has been received from the Alberta Highway Commissioner, N. W. Macpherson, to the effect that at the present time no funds have been authorized for work on the Medicine Hat—Redcliff road, but if later in the season funds are available, something may be done at this point.

The local committee which interviewed Mr. Fallow here should remind him of some of the promises he made.

day of December.

When the application is granted, the deposit shall be applied on the applicant's consolidated arrears, otherwise it shall be repaid to him.

In case the application is not granted, provision is made in said Act for an appeal to the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

No buildings, fences, fixtures or other improvements shall be removed from any land in respect to which, there is a subsisting tax consolidation agreement.

To those who properly come under the provisions of the above Act, all proceedings under the Tax Recovery Act 1929 and 1938 are suspended in respect to the properties involved while such consolidation agreement is in force.

Farmers Cutting Wheat Now In This District

Lack of Rain Recently Has Cut
Down the Crop

Several farmers in this district are already cutting their wheat crop and although this is fairly early for cutting, the growth is satisfactory. No rain for the past ten days has ripened the grain and forced the cutting.

Carl Wolters, is already cutting and Ted Bardell will be cutting tomorrow.

Scarcity of rain recently has disappointed the farmers and has cut down the crop which was expected a few weeks ago.

Interesting Cars To Visit Redcliff At C.P.R. Station

In Evening Here on Monday,
August 1st

The Canadian Forestry Association's tree planting car will stop at the C. P. R. station in Redcliff on Monday evening, August 1st at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be several cars in to protect and beautify your home, how to tree planting, talks fishing adventure, wild life, hours of educational entertainment and moving pictures, hours of educational entertainment and moving pictures. There will also be instructions to prevent soil drifting, to moderate the wind damage to grain crops, to help conserve moisture and to beautify farm surroundings and moving picture lecture.

There will be no admission to visit these cars and there will be most interesting exhibits and addresses for young and old and farmers and town people.

Trout & White Fish Put in Lake Newell

Million of Eggs Were Planted
There Recently

Several thousand speckled trout were placed in Lake Newell last week by the provincial fisheries department.

Lake Newell, the large artificial lake which stores much of the irrigation water for the Eastern Irrigation District, is now stocked with pickled, whitefish and pike as well as the trout. A million pickled eggs were planted there last June, and the fish from these and the young trout are expected to make good fishing in about two years' time.

Among the lucky winners of prizes in the Mutual Benefit Association Draw recently were Don Burke $50, Roberts Shaw and George Broughton $25, and Tom Mignault $5.

Vancouver tourists had a bad car accident 20 miles west of Medicine Hat on the road from Lethbridge. The car turned over three times. Three ladies and two men were in the car. One of the ladies is in the hospital in the Hat and the others were not badly injured.

To Open New Swimming Pool On August 12

Will Be Interesting Programme
Afternoon and Evening

During the past week considerable progress was made in the work on the new swimming pool in town and now all arrangements are being made for the official opening on August 12th.

A committee has been appointed to arrange an interesting programme for both afternoon and evening and it is hoped that some in town will make an effort to be present, not only to help out with the finances but to encourage the committee who have given so generously of both time and talent to make the new pool possible this year.

As well as sports in the pool there will be a carnival on the grounds with all kinds of games for which prizes will be given.

At a committee meeting held last Tuesday evening, Mr. Baird was appointed to draw up a code of rules and regulations for the new pool of which I.R. Stone will be in charge.

Alberta Received The Inoculation For Horses

To Combat an Outbreak of Horse Disease

A supply of vaccine for the inoculation of horses against encephalomyelitis, a disease of the brain, has reached Edmonton and is available to veterinarians; it was announced Monday by Dr. Percy Talbot, provincial veterinarian.

The shipment, 2,000 doses, was made from New York to the Alberta government to combat an outbreak of the disease in the province. Several areas have reported horses affected by the disease.

A portion of the shipment has been forwarded to Dr. J. Gordon Anderson, V. S. at Calgary.

Physical Training in Alberta This Winter

Will Be Under the Direction of Education Department

Physical Training activities for young people, included in the British Columbia plan, will be organized under Alberta government supervision in winter.

Under the direction of the department of education, the scheme will be a valuable to any municipality desiring such training for its young people.

Alberta Lad Was Killed in Quebec

The breathless drop of a runaway hoist cage killed five young mining engineers yesterday in the depths of the Laramie Mining Company's $1,000,000 No. 7 shaft at Bourlonsque, Quebec.

Four victims of the mad plunges died instantly and the fifth died in hospital about an hour later. One of the young men was Peter Downey of Glendon, Alberta.

Fixed minimum wheat price will probably be set next week.

Death By Drowning

The drowning season has opened and during the next three months or more one may expect to read reports of tragedies occurring in lakes, rivers, creeks, sloughs and potholes in the prairie provinces. Even this early in the season, accidents involving loss of life have already been reported from more than one prairie point.

In many districts in the west the opportunities for death by drowning have been materially curtailed during the past few years on account of the thought which has resulted in rivers and sloughs drying up and many of the larger lakes have been no shallower that the risk of death in this form has been considerably reduced.

This year, however, with an abundance of rainfall throughout the west, rivers are running more rapidly, shallow sloughs and lakes are much deeper than they were and many depressions which have been dry for a number of years are now filled with water, multiplying many times over the risks of loss of life through drowning.

Hence, the necessity for greater precaution on the part of those who like to enjoy the pleasures of the water, whether it is as bathers and swimmers, or as in canoe and rowboat.

A Dangerous Element

As with the automobile on the highway, water may be and often is a dangerous element for those who are ignorant or careless of the risks they sometimes thoughtlessly run, and even expert swimmers are not always immune from death by drowning. For those who venture on or in the water there is no absolute guarantee of safety no matter how skillful or well trained they may be.

Because there is danger, however, the pleasures of the water should not be denied to those who are intelligent and particularly those who are of conduct and certain safeguards which can and should be practiced by all who bathe or boat.

The first and most important of these is ability to swim and swim well. Another is ability to handle a canoe with skill, and determination to refrain from horseplay while travelling in a canoe. A third is to swim only when the companionship of one or more good swimmers is available in case of emergency arising. And finally, every person who bathes or embarks on the water in canoe or boat should be master of the art of life saving in the water. Even when all these precautions are observed all risks are not entirely eliminated, for a sudden and deadly cramp may claim the life of the most expert and the best prepared for danger.

Even in the urban centres where many facilities are available for safeguarding against loss of life from such causes, such as life saving classes conducted under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Association and other organizations, and tuition in swimming at the local Y.M.C.A. or civic bathing places, there are occasionally lost.

How much greater is the risk in the rural districts where such facilities and instruction are not available and where, too frequently, the uninitiated plunge into the water and drown because they are not sufficiently acquainted with the sub-surface terrain, or because competent aid is not available when they get into difficulties, because they are unaware of the strength of the current and above all, because they have not been trained in the art of swimming or the craft of life saving.

Preparation Is Essential

Again for those who take their pleasure in or on the water at summer resort danger is increased and particularly thereby for those who are unprepared to cope with an emergency. A sudden squall upsets a boat and the occupants are tipped into the water or the occupants of a canoe get too risky for their unstable craft and lives are needlessly lost because the pleasure takers are not strong swimmers or because the competent are dragged down by the helpless members of the party when they attempt to rescue.

Enough has been said to demonstrate the necessity of precautions for danger on the part of those who go down to the water to bathe or to ride on its surface.

Throughout the west the arts of swimming and life-saving should be thoroughly taught to the children and the youth by capable instructors under practical conditions wherever a suitable body of water is within easy access. Wherever feasible such instruction should be accompanied by demonstration, and practice should be included as one of the activities associated with the school, possibly after school hours or on Saturdays or other holidays. No person should approach adulthood or even adolescence without being given the opportunity to learn and practice the arts of swimming and life saving.

It is useless to forbid children the privileges of the community swimming hole. It is one of the greatest joys of the average normal, healthy child. On the contrary they should be encouraged to take advantage of the opportunities the district may afford for bathing and swimming but such activities should be practiced under proper supervision and mature, such pleasures are accompanied with every reasonable precaution for safety.

Question Is Settled

Five women out of six interviewed in Toronto did not think it was necessary, as a display of good manners, for men to remove their hats in the presence of a lady passenger in the elevator. After that verdict, the man who does remove his hat may be open to the charge of indecency of putting on swank or trying to make a hit.

A house at Pease, Ark., was built around a tree stump. The stump now serves as both table and kitchen cabinet, compartments having been hewn out of it.

Two small children were working in the garden. The elder, a "bossed" until the little fellow called: "Mother, please come and speak to Joe or. He thinks he is a woman."

Always Polite

Once at a state dinner Mr. William H. Taft found himself seated next to a certain foreign visitor who boasted on the extreme politeness of his countrymen. After pointing out at some length how they excelled Americans in this respect, he inquired proudly: "You admit it, don't you, Mrs. Taft smiled. "Yes," she replied, "that is our politeness."

Losses Good Friend

Blind Man Mourns Death of Dog That Protected Him

A young man became "blind again" as an old dog closed its eyes in death at Morrisburg, N.J. Buddy, first of the "Seeing Eye" dogs for the blind, had been brought home to die. And Buddy did.

The female German shepherd, suffering from the infirmities of age, after fifteen years of service as the "seeing eye" of Morris B. Frank, 30, blind globe-trotter.

Deprived so to speak, of his eyesight, Frank stood by the body of his lifeless Buddy and said: "We did not expect her to die so soon. As I have not yet parted with the dog that is to take Buddy's place, I feel that I am blind again. Buddy was my eyes."

There was irony in Frank's words. For Buddy herself was becoming blind from old age. Days passed but the affliction which she herself had nursed in her foster.

Frank and Buddy had travelled 150,000 miles through the country together, spreading word to the blind that trained dogs could serve as their "seeing eyes." Their last trip was a return by plane from Chicago, so that Buddy could die at home, in the Morrisburg home of the Seeing Eye Organization, of which Frank is vice-president.

He became blind while bringing to prep school and since has devoted his life to training dogs for the sightless.

His grief was the more because his indebtedness to Buddy goes back to 1902, tugging him away from an elevator shaft in a Chicago hotel. That door was open, but the elevator had not arrived. Frank was about to enter when she pulled him back.

Buddy was given a private funeral at the Seeing Eye training school.

Naturalized Citizens

Must Conduct Themselves As Citizens Of Canada

Persons who come to Canada from other countries and acquire Canadian citizenship should be made to realize they must conduct themselves as citizens of Canada and not of the countries of their origin. Mr. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, said in the House of Commons.

He referred to an interview reported in a North Bay, Ont., paper in which Vincent Scappatura, described as an Italian jug returned from Italy, derided Canadian political institutions and Englished like a British lord.

He also said England had to back down the Rhineland dispute or Mussolini would have him the British head.

The naturalization act provided for the revocation of the naturalization of any person who by speech or action showed himself disloyal or contempt to the king. Mr. Bennett suggested that was a proper course to take with this man.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, justice minister, said he would bring the matter to the attention of Hon. Fernand Robit, secretary of state.

When Did Not Work

When his 40th birthday they could not find their money, Andrea Koppen of Kasaba, Chocoma, Slovakia, decided to "travel" them. He went to the collar of the building and police found him busy with gunpowder, gasoline and a machine connected to a clock. He has started to serve seven years at hard labor.

Health Campaign

Necessary Sickness Is A Burden On The People Of Canada

Sickness and unnecessary deaths cost Canada more than $600,000,000 a year, the Health League of Canada estimated as it urged a national health education campaign and more adequate use of known preventive measures.

Approximately two per cent, or 200,000 persons, of Canada's population are constantly ill and unable to work, the league said, although half that illness is preventable. It is estimated 34 per cent. of Canadian deaths are "postmortem."

"Science has already developed methods whereby sickness and death rates may be materially reduced, thus saving enormous costs which at present are unnecessarily a burden on the people of Canada," the league said in a submission made before the House committee.

"The solution of the problem of preventive medicine requires the application of specific methods, for example, fooding of children, pasteurization of milk, periodic health examination and the building up of adequate machinery in the way of properly staffed departments of health, adequate legislation, full-time health units in rural areas, etc. All such measures require expenditure by the dominion, provinces and municipalities."

Study Bird Life

Party Goes North On Behalf Of American Museum Of Natural History

In an effort to complete the collection of bird life specimens from the northern tundra for the American Museum of Natural History, a New York expedition headed by W. A. Rockefeller, museum patron, arrived in Winnipeg recently on the way to Churchill, Manitoba.

The personnel include Raymond Potter of the department of preparation of the museum, and Fred S. Scherer, staff artist.

Mr. Rockefeller, particularly interested in the ornithological section of the museum, will carry out most of the field work during the weeks the expedition is in the north.

Scherer's assignment is to photograph and paint in colors the habitat of the birds, while Mr. Potter is to mount the specimens for a large permanent exhibit to be set up in New York.

Turn-About Fair Play

President Wilson Had Clever Reply To Woman From Florida

A woman from Florida approached President Wilson one day; and after a great deal of pleading, she asked: "What can I do for you?"

"Oh, nothing at all," replied the president. "I came from Florida just to see what a live President looks like. I never saw one before." That's very kind of you," replied President Wilson, laughing heartily. "There's no reason why you shouldn't, since many of us in the North have all the way to Florida just to see a live alligator."

Purchase Whale Oil

British Steadily Adding To Her Stocks Of Food And Oil

Great Britain is steadily adding to her stocks of food and oil. A whale oil ring in Norway has sold 34,000 tons of whale oil—the balance of its stock—for prompt delivery from its stocks in Hull. Three weeks ago the ring sold 20,000 tons to Denmark. The value of the British purchase is $100,000 ($12,000,000).

When Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, moves second reading of the essential commodities reserve bill in the House of Commons it is expected he will lift the ban on a sale over these purchases of foodstuffs.

The bill authorizes the board of trade to establish reserves of any essential commodities either by forbidding traders to increase their stocks or improve their storage facilities or by purchasing the stocks itself. The bill does not cover all commodities. It includes those which, in the opinion of the board, are "food for man, forage for animals, fertilizers for land, any raw material from which essential commodities can be produced, and petroleum and petroleum products."

Members of the commons have some odd ingenious plans for storage. Some would like to use disused coal mines used. There, in that subterranean gloom a mile down, it is argued, gasoline could be stored far from the reach of the most devastating of bombs yet known to man. Some would use caves burrowing deep in the limestone areas of central England.

Why Scouting Is Valuable

Because it is wholesome States Speaker At Banquet

"Scouting is wholesome," Mr. T. W. Morton told 200 guests at a banquet of the Boy Scouts' Association of Canada, Winnipeg.

"The difference between scouting" and every other youth movement is that scouting is wholesome and all the others are partial," he said. "Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin won't want whole men for citizens, they want men who are developed in certain ways, kept in a servile state and trained to be soldiers. That's why Hitler abolished scouts within a week after taking Austria." He continued: "Canadian business men should employ scouts more and recognize that a Scout badge is a guarantee that a boy has learned the ground-work of a trade, he is useful."

Most Popular Names

Elizabeth Heads List For Girls In Edinburgh Scheme

Elizabeth, one learns on good authority, is the most popular name for girls in the British empire. In most cases it is shortened to Betty, while an occasional Lizzie still creeps forth from the Edinburgh scheme. Mary, while Catherine—usually shortened to Cathie, not Kate nowadays—is also an extremely common name. Anne, Jean, Joan, Janet, Helen, Christie, and Agnes also have a good lining.

Iodine was accidentally discovered in 1811 by a French chemist who, in seeking a new form of guano for Napoleon, treated calcium nitrate with the ashes of seaweed.

Greater Interest Is Taken In Teaching Agriculture In Our Canadian Schools

For no other occupation, with the possible exception of home-making, do Governments in Canada consider so many educational services outside of the schools as for agriculture, states the Annual Survey of Education in Canada, 1938. Short courses by provincial Ministries of Education for prospectors have been attended by nearly 5,000 men in a year lately, but short courses for farmers, their wives and children, varying in length from a few days to a few weeks, are attended each year by several tens of thousands. And courses are by no means the only type of educational service sponsored by the Extension Branches of Departments of Agriculture and Agriculture Extension. One variety alone, that of the organization of boys and girls farm clubs includes more than 35,000 young people.

With regard to schools proper, the total number of schools that could be called agricultural high schools in the sense that the term "technical high school" is used, is less than a dozen, but some of the provinces provide a good deal of agricultural instruction in the regular courses for school leaving, normal entrance, or matriculation. About one-third of the academic secondary schools in Ontario (collegiate institutions, high and continuation schools) have agricultural classes. The "ruralization" of teaching in Quebec has received emphasis in recent years. Available information, however, does not permit of a comparison that would give a reliable impression of the extent of agricultural education in the ordinary schools of the several provinces together.

There are two residential agricultural schools (other than agricultural colleges) with one or two years' courses in Alberta, one in Ontario and two in Quebec. They serve much the same purpose as the diploma courses in agricultural colleges which are held at one centre in each province, except in Quebec where they are three, and in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island where there are none. These boarding schools for the teaching of agriculture are rare in Canada as compared with some other agricultural countries. Denmark, with a population only equal to Ontario's has 21 such schools, with an annual attendance of 2,000 to 3,000. In addition, the folk high schools (also residential institutions) with an attendance of 4,000 draw mainly from young people from the farms. The total enrolment in agricultural boarding schools throughout Canada including the diploma courses for agriculture is less than six hundred, while the total enrolment in all the other five schools is about 800.

The Things That Count

Attention To Small Details Means Much To Travelling Public
It's the seemingly little things that count, even with tourists, says the South Sea. Made this point clear to a traveller who motored through Alaska recently and returned with a new thing of which he had to complain was that, at two hotels where he stopped for meals, his hot dinner was served on a cold plate with the result that it was pretty well cooled off by the time he got it. That may seem a minor consideration. But to this traveller as to many others, it was an important item. In fact his reaction was: "I will take quite an inducement to get me to go back there."

How important it is for those catering to the needs of visitors to those who attend the little details. Some small thing done at the right time, an unexpected favor, even a kindly word may make a permanent friend and a constant visitor of the first time tourist; the absence of a courtesy or a minor necessity is likely to make them forget to return. Be careful about the small as well as the great things.

Wrong Kind Of Shot

A stranger brought in a Spitz dog and told Poundbridge that he was from Lafayette, Ind.: "I want to give this dog a shot. I can't bear to see him suffer." Hence the dog out. Two pistol shots were heard.

"What did you do?" the stranger gulped.
"I heard bad 'out' the dog."
"My wife will be plenty mad," the man said. "I wanted the dog vaccinated."

"How did you make your neighbor buy his home in his own yard?"
"One night I had half a dozen men under a bush in my garden, and next day I let him say, me gather them. I wasn't bothered after that."

Home Canning In Tin

Tin Can As A Container For Fruits And Vegetables
The tin can as a container for home-canned fruits, vegetables, meats and fish is becoming increasingly popular every year and the reason for this is that it can be tin can is quicker, easier and cheaper than canning in glass, states B. W. Arango-Jones, Horticultural Director, Central Experimental Station, Ottawa.

Successful canning in tin cans requires a reliable can closing machine and a pressure sterilizer for vegetables and meats and fish. Both these pieces of equipment can be purchased quite cheaply and they will last for many years if properly cared for. The pressure sterilizer may be used for cooking every day meals as well as for canning and for this reason will be found very useful. It is also both the can sealer and the sterilizer are sold in a wide range of sizes to suit every need. In country sections where a lot of canning may be done, it is a good plan for several families to purchase the equipment co-operatively, selecting the larger models, and then, by helping each other during the canning season, a remarkably large quantity of foodstuffs may be preserved for winter use.

The only difference between canning in tin cans and canning in glass is that the tin cans may be sealed while the contents are hot. This is necessary in order to exclude air from the can as it is only in the presence of air that the acids in fruits and vegetables can attack the metal of the can. Furthermore, since the filled cans are cooked following sealing, hot filling will reduce the internal pressure developed by the sterilizing treatment. Plain tin cans are used for most vegetables and for all but the coloured fruits. Red coloured fruits will be found in no case satisfactory on the inside with a protective enamel used. Certain kinds of vegetables, such as Lima beans and corn, will develop a tinny taste and will, in fact, be ruined in plain cans and a special can, known as a C. enamel, is provided for them. Using present day equipment and reliable canning instructions, home-makers may have as much confidence in their own products as they have in commercially canned fruits and vegetables.

The next great battle facing the world is for liberty of thought, according to Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, missionary and representative of the League of Nations.

The public of one village offered a "plot of beer to every man in the team for every goal that it scored."

Not to be outdone the politician of the other village made a similar offer.
At half-time one politician sent his boy down to find out the score.
The boy came back with the following report:
"It's a very close game, sir; we're leading by 28 goals to 22!"

Visualize Motor Road From Alaska Through B. C. And U. S. To Buenos Aires

Has To Be Tought
Horse Sense Is Overruled According To Expert Evidence
It is something of a shock, states Richard T. F. Harding, in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, to learn that the horse sense of the United States and Canada, of us who live in the narrow spaces of the city, where men are automobile drivers, would have failed on that one, would have said the horse bent his shoulder to the collar and strained the muscles of his legs out of sheer exuberance of spirit delight in doing a big job in a grand way, of showing that he was a horse for a country far, more frankly, that one he had surrendered to slavery he would try to act as if he really enjoyed it.

Evidence volunteered by the Horse and Mule Association of America lets the truth out of the bag and strengthens the belief that the horse is one of the stupidest of animals, certainly the stupidest of those who we call domesticated. It describes the methods by which trainers, over a period of weeks or months, induce the animals to put forth much more than a natural effort, to the end that when they have been driven to the country far, more frankly, that one he had surrendered to slavery he would try to act as if he really enjoyed it.

These methods are, at best, a combination of force and cunning, and bribery by which man is able to outwit the physically superior horse, keep him steadily at work and deny him the rest which is his due. They say much for a soothing voice, a lump of sugar and a piece of apple a man can coax a horse into after success in other relationships.

Horse sense is a phrase of scorn, for of the horse had the slightest intelligence he would kick the daylight out of a man who tried to handle him. His dignity, the sense of that does that is called an outlaw. Of the domestic animals only an angry bull compares with the horse in strength of a threatening nature. The others are easily handled or easily caught.

For applied intelligence to the dog and the cat. Both live well and add many privileges to a large measure of personal liberty. What little work the dog does, in countries where he is harnessed, is only a modification of his natural sport. Since so many men make good of the dog, the cat does nothing, is the complete sybarite and the perfect parasite.

Unusual Distinction
First Woman To Be Fellow Of Royal Society Of Canada
Miss Alice C. Wilson, Ph.D., a geologist in the Department of Mines, has been elected to the rank of the first woman to be made a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. Dr. C. H. Hensman, president of the society, told The Journal of the society conferred upon Miss Wilson, "It is due to the fact that she has received a medal for imaginative writing. This award had been announced previously."

Miss Wilson stated that she specialized in stratigraphy and paleontology. Born in Colborne, Ont., she graduated from the University of Toronto with the degree of B.A. Later she received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago.

Miss Wilson has been a resident of Ottawa for many years, and has been connected with the Geological Survey—Ottawa branch.

Trust Fund Will Keep Charley McCarthy In Good Repair
Charles McCarthy, wooden ventriloquist's dummy, gets $10,000 out of the trust fund from the estate of his maker, who made him a national figure, Edgar Bergen. Bergen bequeathed the money to the Actors' Fund of America with the stipulation that Charlie be kept in good repair and used in ways to encourage the art of ventriloquism. That means Charlie will never want for kinks oil, soap, paper, paint and a tuxedo.

Letters may now be sent by air mail from London to India and the Far East for three cents.

International negotiations promise to speed the day when it will be possible to motor 14,000 miles or more from Alaska, through British Columbia and the United States to Buenos Aires.

The negotiations involve the possibility of a $10,000,000 loan to British Columbia, or some other means of financing a 2,300-mile all-weather road between Seattle and Patuxent.

Half of this northern projection of a Pan-American highway system has been completed. Already a motorist may drive from Hamilton, B.C., across western United States, and on to Mexico City, a distance of nearly 4,000 miles.

Unaided, the provinces of British Columbia has pushed a road northward toward Alaska, but lack of funds prevented continuing further to the wilderness of Yukon territory.

The plan is to build first an unperched road, with the aim eventually of providing a concrete road. The motorist in the sections of British Columbia and Alaska to be traversed will have to put forth much more than a natural effort, to the end that when they have been driven to the country far, more frankly, that one he had surrendered to slavery he would try to act as if he really enjoyed it.

The Inter-American highway, except for the horse had the slightest intelligence he would kick the daylight out of a man who tried to handle him. His dignity, the sense of that does that is called an outlaw. Of the domestic animals only an angry bull compares with the horse in strength of a threatening nature. The others are easily handled or easily caught.

It already includes some 1,385 miles of all-weather road, mostly paved or being paved, 1,425 miles of dry season roads, and 540 miles of trails. In Mexico and El Salvador construction has been advancing rapidly.

Extension of the Inter-American highway into South America would mean a revolution. Some engineers have expressed belief that for a time at least the Canal Zone in Panama would be a link to be connected by ferry. The Bunker Bolivar highway already links Venezuela, Colombia and Ecuador.

The total mileage from Panama to Buenos Aires on the shortest possible combination of routes is approximately 14,000 miles and the total of all alternatives is not less than 15,000 miles, the Pan-American Union has estimated.

Alfalfa Meal For Poultry

Introduces Necessary Vitamins And Makes The Nations Cheaper
Alfalfa meal should be used more extensively in the feeding of poultry than it is at the present time according to O. N. Summers, Wyoming poultry specialist. It is useful also for turkeys especially in the mash, when on range and is thought to prevent crooked breast humps. Dry mash mixtures for chickens and turkeys of all ages and stages may contain alfalfa meal. Besides making the ration cheaper, the addition of alfalfa meal introduces vitamins and minerals which are necessary for the health and development of their ingredients in the ration.

Giving Good Results

Youthful Offenders Are Dealt With Under New Plan In Sweden
Sweden's new plan of dealing with youthful offenders is having much better results than was expected, according to Stockholm reports. The boys are sent to special youth prisons for indefinite periods, release depending on conduct and successful training. The conditions of release is judged by a committee which studies each case as a doctor studies a patient.

Some Old Superstitions

Many Regard To Weddings Are Still Current

Even in this modern world, it is amazing to discover how many of the quaint old superstitions are cherished by the most sensible of souls.

Weddings, in particular, have their fair share of these medieval whimsies which come to light whenever there is a bridal ceremony in the offing. Most of brides would never consider going to the altar without including in their wedding regalia "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue" and while the old-time version to a Saturday wedding has been long out-moded, "Happily is the bride which the man wishes on" is subscribed to wholeheartedly by one and all.

Good Neighbors

Would Commemorate 125 Years of Peace Between Canada and U.S. The United States Good Neighbor League has announced a program suggesting a coast-to-coast "Canadian-American Good Neighbor Celebration" in the fall to commemorate 125 years of peace between Canada and the United States. Dr. Charles Steale, director of the league, said Canadian leaders would be asked to join in an international committee of 500 to forward the idea. Tentative plans are for dinners to be held simultaneously in at least 100 cities on both sides of the borders with an exchange of speakers.

Poet Will Be Honored

Winthrop Grants Loan To Ukrainian For Erection Of Arch And Vase. Ukrainian of Winnipeg have been granted a small plot of land by the City Council for erection of a monument in honor of Marko Vukobratovich, one of the great poets of the Ukraine, who died in 1848. His first book, an anthology entitled "The Delator's Merman" was published 100 years ago, one of his kind in the Ukrainian language.

Chose Another Song

"Now we're all going to join in singing No. 7 in our song book," the master of ceremonies said to delegate to the World council convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The delegates turned the pages of their books, then sang. The song was "The Women's Christian Temperance Union." The delegates tried another song.

World's Largest Bell

The world's largest bell is a 1,500-year-old Buddhist temple at Osaka, Japan. It is 10 feet high, 10 feet wide across the mouth and 2 feet high, and is used only for special rites. Its tone can be heard for two miles.

Reviving Old Customs.

Bread And Cheese Distributed To Indians At Pagant

Two thousand Indians of the Six Nations Reserve gathered at the main grounds, at Oshkosh, near Bradford, Ont., to partake of the traditional bread and cheese given in honor of the memory of the Empire builder and Indian administrator, Sir William Johnson, in pagan and pagan.

The distribution of the bread and cheese in the morning was an event which practically all Indians attended. The custom, believed started when Queen Victoria acceded the throne, lasted for a number of years but is being revived. The Six Nations Council purchased 700 loaves of bread and seven cheeses, each weighing about 80 pounds, and amounting in all to about 600 pounds of cheese. The lot was consumed.

The Helping Hand

Blind Man Was Eyes For One Who Could See

A Winnipeg newspaperman was having a bit of trouble with his eyes. The early spring sun troubled him until he thought of the happy idea of taking the form of a sturdy crier, and thus his eyes were saved. It felt a bit that other day, when his sturdy guide, listening to the word of thanks, burst into tears. "Thanks, nothing. I'm stone blind myself," Canadian Magazine.

Provides Good Reading

Yearly sales of "Everyman's Library" The famous "Everyman's Library" published by H. Dent and Co. London, now contains 940 titles. The total sales of the library to date are about 30,000,000, representing a sale of roughly 1,000,000 volumes a year since starting publication. The average sale per volume is over 30,000, and there is a wide variation in sale from as low as 4,000 to as high as 30,000. It is interesting to note that among the sellers are Dickens and Shakespeare.—The New York.

THE NEW
OF CHEMISTRY IN EVERYDAY LIFE

BY DR. H. G. LUTLER.

New Products from Chemistry's Test Tube

In recent years we have heard much of synthetic products, and rightly so, since they are necessary to modern living and influence our daily lives more than we realize. Some of the necessities and comforts of life we can get directly from nature, but nature has not seen fit to supply us directly with everything we need and desire. In the making of certain products which nature has furnished, the supply is not sufficient for our demands. This has, however, supplied the necessary raw materials from which man can make what he wishes, if he only knows how to go about the job.

Through years of study and research, the chemist has learned how to take apart the things supplied by nature—air, water, and earth—and reassemble them into new forms.

At the Disarmament Conference in Washington in 1921. In the first place, the conference was called to consider the question that what was needed was not good quality materials to make a good product, but that they were "being made to use real goods." "Every nation wants to see the other nations' goods."

From the results of their work many have come to feel with Sir Ernest Brown, British Minister of Commerce, that "the world is suffering from the nations the greatest danger is that they may make a mistake in giving to the nations at this crisis."

Belgium has forbidden the opening of new chain or department stores.

SO GRACIOUSLY BLENDED

By Ann Adams

A survey of the content shows that the drought has so far chiefly hit Europe, the Balkans, northern Italy, and Morocco. Holland, Belgium, Scandinavia and northern Germany are so far comparatively unaffected, while it is still too early to see the effect upon fertile southern Germany.

Observers are recalling the opinion recently expressed by high German military experts that "you may be able to end a war on bread riots, but you cannot start a war on them."

New is the time to blossom forth in a way to make Ann Adams like this—it is no dignified yet youthful with its graceful curves and a skirt with front panels that give a lovely "wing" effect. Write this very day for Pattern #221. You'll get the almost perfect fit of the long pointed bodice, punctuated with buttons and a line of flatter skirt. And you can look forward to plenty of compliments if you wear a cool, dark sheer or a light printed silk—your favorite fabric department will be glad to suggest particularly suitable new materials.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin stamps can be accepted for the Ann Adams pattern. Write plainly in ink. Name, address and style number and send order to the Ann Adams Pattern Co., 170 Melbourne Ave. E., Winnipeg.

A ready pattern can be extracted from milk.

Spring Drought In Europe

May Be Greatest Alibi For Peace Opinion of Economy Experts

Peace may find a new ally in the drought, which is reported to be ravaging large sections of Europe. Economic experts in London and Geneva are of the opinion that the drought, in some cases of a proportion unknown for 150 years, may help to move the Old World from another major war this year.

Disaster is threatening great wheat crops and grainlands and may force some countries, and particularly the totalitarian states, to divert some of their armaments money to the purchase of vital foodstuffs.

Observers are recalling the opinion recently expressed by high German military experts that "you may be able to end a war on bread riots, but you cannot start a war on them."

Major Problem Solved

French President And King George Enter Automobile Together

Protocol experts solved the major problem involved in the state visit of King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth to France.

It was whether President Albert Lebrun or King George should enter the presidential automobile first when the King arrived at the railroad station in Paris.

Weeks of study of precedents was necessary before the experts arrived at the solution.

It is that the president and the King should enter the automobile at the same split-second, one from each side of the car.

Mrs. Lebrun and Queen Elizabeth likewise should enter simultaneously the second automobile in the state procession.

The Simple Savage

How Far Have We Progressed In Wisdom Since Our Ancestors' Civilization

Digging into an Indian burial mound in western Kentucky, Mrs. E. M. Brown, of the University of Chicago, has found the skeleton of a prehistoric man surrounded by 625 large beads and five acres of solid earth. The beads, as we think of the simple savage who must have spent most of his lifetime accumulating that state of knowledge from the distant mine near Lake Superior, in order to have it withdrawn from use and buried with him. Our wisdom is so much greater than his.—New York Times-Telegram.

Missing Link

Find Jaw Of Primal Man In South Africa

The right upper jaw of a primate man, believed to constitute the "missing link" between the ape and man, has been found by Dr. Robert Broom at the Brixton, South Africa, Transvaal. "We have the rather startling fact revealed," Dr. Broom said, "that the canine is enlarged as in the chimpanzee or gorilla and is typically human. It is even smaller than in modern human skulls. Further, there is no gap between the incisor and the canine so that the teeth form a continuous series as in man."

Has No Equal

A 30-year-old Havardian in Saskatchewan outlined a plan to set up an authoritarian state in Canada. No one has yet explained, says the Fort Arthur News-Chronicle, why people who come to Canada because it is a better country than their own are so anxious to make conditions here as bad as those which they left.

Rescue Drowning Persons

Much Ignorance Of The Actual Possibilities Of Resuscitation.

Drowning was responsible for two-thirds of all deaths in Canada in 1930, but there remains great popular ignorance of the actual possibilities of resuscitation, even among the medical profession, Dr. Gordon Bates, of the Health League of Canada, said.

It did not seem to be commonly realized, he told the Howell Commission, that persons often brought around after being under water for 15 to 30 minutes, although their respiration and heart action had ceased for four or five people. Cases had occurred where persons were revived after being under water for 45 minutes, and even after being under water for 90 minutes.

A mechanical respirator developed recently by the Bunting Institute for infantile paralysis victims. The machine cost only $200 and would do the work of a whole crew in reviving water victims.

Reveals Fortune

Discovery Of Gold In Paris Forgotten Since 1848 Century

A wrecker's axe in Paris led to the discovery of 5,000 pieces of gold valued at $200,000 francs ($60,250) which had been forgotten since the 18th century. The treasure was found in a building being demolished in the rue Mouffette in the ancient Latin quarter. A yellow parchment was found with the name of the discoverer, King Louis XV. (1715-1774) and the legend: "J. Biron, Louis XV. 1774." The treasure was found in a building being demolished in the rue Mouffette in the ancient Latin quarter. Hardly Entertainment

Refugee From Germany Found He Had Selected Wrong Show

Puts Hansel and Gretel who once was Hitler's associate and who now is a refugee from Germany, decided that he was bored with being confined to his hotel room and decided to seek some entertainment, says Leonard Lyons, in the New York Post. Puts therefore purchased tickets to a Broadway show to relieve his mind from the problems which beat him. The show he carefully selected was "Escape This Night." He discovered, too late, that it concerned the murder of a man who is a refugee from a country ruled by a dictator.

Paying The Crawl

An English engine-driver was off duty owing to illness, and when payday came round he asked his wife to call at the depot to collect his week's wages.

She was surprised when she saw the amount, and on reaching home mentioned that he had never told her what he was doing. "I was ready for that," he said, "collecting the wages." "But," she said, "I've paid the fireman and the guard."
